GALLIPOLIS.

THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1854.

The assessment of personal property will soon commence in this county. The several township assessors will have to keep moving, to complete the same by the fifth Monday of May. No longer time can possibly be given as the county board of equalization meets on the Tuesday following. We cannot tell when the blanks will be ready for assessors, as we do not print them this year; they are given to our neighbor, under the plea that with less hands they can print them in less time than we can. Our proposition was, to have all the blanks ready for the assessors on Monday next.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Alexander Greenwood was up before the Mayor on Friday last, for a violation of a town ordinance, in leasing his premises where is situated his ball alley, knowing the same was to be used for gaming purposes. Some fifteen witnesses were examined, and Greenwood fined one hundred dollars. The matter we understand will go up by appeal.

The April number of Blackwood's Magazine has the following table of contents:

The Commercial Results of a War with Russia; The Puppets of all Nations; The Quiet Heart, Part V.; Chronological Curiosities; What shall we Collect? The Reform Bills of 1852 and 1853; The Blue Books and the Eastern Question; Life in the Sahara; The Cott of the Coalition Ministry.

The Lightning Line of packets the Alvin Adams and David White, are to have the carrying of the mail between Louisville and Cincinnati on and after the 1st of July. Their bid, was less than half the sum proposed by the old mail line.

On Thursday evening, the 11th inst., R. L. HAMILTON, Esq., (editor of the National Patriot, Cincinnati, O.) will address the citizens of Gallipolis, on the subject of Romanism and its tendencies upon our civil institutions. The address will be delivered in the Methodist Episcopal Church at 7 1/2 o'clock P. M. As this question is assuming considerable importance in many portions of the United States in regard to its tendencies upon our National character, and as Mr. H.'s discussions upon this subject have been favorably received in various parts of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, we bespeak for him a full house at the M. E. Church on Thursday evening the 11th inst.

ANNUAL SESSION.—On Monday afternoon, when there appeared to be a lack of business before the House, Mr. Logue of Gallia, offered a resolution which declared it to be the sense of the House that the sessions of the Legislature should be held annually, instead of biennially, and that the sessions should commence on the 1st Monday of December, instead of January. It was not a proposition to change the Constitution, but simply designed as an expression of the opinion of the House.

It was objected to on the ground that it would be making political capital for somebody, and rather than create any impression of the kind, Mr. Logue withdrew the resolution.

This subject has been fully discussed among the members of all parties during the winter, and there is but one opinion that the present arrangement is a great mistake, and should and must be corrected. The reason why it is not done, is that it would be admitting a failure in the Locofoco party. But it is in vain to resist. The time will come, and it is not far distant, when these two points will be changed, and made as they were under the old Constitution.

State Journal.
We by no means consider it settled that one session of the Legislature in two years is not all the interest of the State require. In this matter the interest of the State and the people of Columbus may not be the same. We believe the people hereabouts are generally agreed that biennial sessions are frequent enough with such Legislatures.

The trial of the Martha Washington prisoners is proceeding at Helena. The first witness examined was Henry Cupp, who was a passenger on the boat when she was burnt, and whose testimony tends to implicate Nicholson, the clerk, in setting it on fire.

MILLER AT HIS NEW STAND WITH NEW GOODS.—Mr. Wm. C. Miller has completely fixed up things at his new stand at the upper corner of Court and Third streets, and is ready, willing and desirous to meet old customers and new with lots of new goods at prices as low as the lowest, so he says.

Our millers, it will be seen by the prices current, are paying $1.50 per bushel for wheat.

Hon. A. Lucas arrived home on Wednesday last, bringing us full files of papers.

An eclipse of the sun will occur on the 28th of the present month, commencing at thirty-three minutes past four o'clock in the morning, and continuing two hours and four minutes. Early risers will have a decided advantage in this case. The apparent diameter of the moon compared to that of the sun will be about eighteen to nineteen, and near nine-tenths of the sun's surface will be covered.

The eclipse will be visible, to a greater or less extent, in all parts of North America, excepting Guatemala, and the south-west of Mexico. It will also be visible in Ireland, Greenland, Northern Russia, parts of Sweden and Norway, the eastern part of Asia, the West Indies, and in the northern countries of South America.

Our efficient Representative, Hon. JOHN L. TAYLOR, has placed us under obligations for a copy of the Census report, unabridged. Also a neatly bound volume of Speeches delivered on the death of Wm. R. KING.

Gold three dollar pieces are soon to be issued from the United States Mint.

Specimens of this coinage having been submitted to, and approved by, the Secretary of the Treasury, the coins will be immediately put in circulation.

The obverse of the coin represents an ideal head, with the feathered circlet symbolic of America, the word "LIBERTY" appearing on the band encircling the head, and the inscription "UNITED STATES OF AMERICA" surrounding the whole. On the reverse is a wreath composed of some of the staple productions of the United States—viz: wheat, cotton, Indian corn, and tobacco; the denomination and date being in the center.

As compared with the other gold coins the devices and arrangement are novel, and together with the difference in the diameter of the piece, will make it readily distinguishable from the quarter-eagle, which approaches it most nearly in value. It is 19-20ths of an inch in diameter, and weighs 77.4 grains.

We are informed by the gentleman who knows that our statement in regard to Mr. DAVIS receiving the reward for the arrest of the convict Anderson, was correct. If our neighbor's informant to the contrary is a party implicated, and wishes the particulars attending the affair, we can accommodate him without putting himself in any trouble whatever, although the game is small.

Wm. GRAHAM & Co., have a stove depot opposite CHARLEY WRIGHT'S store, where can be found all articles necessary to do things brown. Give them a call.

We advertise two valuable town lots for sale this week, fronting on Second and Third streets—just opposite the Post office.

DAGUERRETYPE.—Our old friends LAMARTINE & SULLIVAN, we understand, are at Marietta with their "Yacht No. 2." They expect to reach Gallipolis some time in July, when our friends will have an opportunity of procuring a likeness "what is a likeness," as they are in possession of the latest improvements in the art. Their "Yacht" is represented as being the handsomest craft now afloat on the Ohio. It is fitted up expressly for Daguerreotyping, and the lights are so arranged that a true type can be obtained during all kinds of weather. They are enabled to take groups of from two to one hundred persons. Our friends will find it to their interest to wait a few weeks rather than patronize traveling botches.

H. R. CHARLESWORTH, has just returned from Philadelphia, with a lot of the finest Italian marble ever brought to the West. We have frequently thought of calling attention to this gentleman's work, specimens of which can be seen in our grave-yard. We are something of an admirer of well executed work, and must award to Mr. C. the praise of having the best finished work that has fallen under our notice for a long time. The monument erected to John Smeltzer, a few miles from this place, is neat and beautiful, both in regard to design and finish, and reflects great credit to Mr. C. The Messrs. ALLARD are agents for Mr. Charlesworth, and persons contemplating erecting monuments to departed friends, can do no better than to call on these gentlemen.

Our exchanges, almost without exception, says the Georgia Home Gazette, bring unfavorable accounts of the state of the crops in all sections of the South. The recent frosts have greatly injured both cotton and corn, while fruit and early vegetables have been generally destroyed. Fears are also expressed that the wheat crop has also sustained injury. We do not remember so unfavorable a spring as the present for several years. Although early and promising, the frosts have blasted the hopes of the planter in many sections, and even render it necessary in some cases to replough and replant.

[From the St. Louis Republic.]

FROM NEW MEXICO.—Authentic Report of the Great Battle with the Apaches. The mail from the West arrived last night, bringing us Santa Fe papers of the 18th, and letters from Cantonment Burgwin, near Taos, to the 21st of March, to friends in this city. From these letters we learn the following authentic particulars of the desperate battle between the command of Lieut. Davidson and the Apache Indians, a few miles from Taos.

On the night of the 26th of March, Lieut. Davidson left Cantonment Burgwin, in command of fifty-seven men, in pursuit of the Apaches, who were supposed to be about one hundred strong. Next morning, about 7 o'clock, he came upon the Indians, posted upon a mountain, and far exceeded in numbers what had been represented. They numbered at least two hundred. There was but one alternative, as they raised the war-whoop upon the approach of the command, and the attack upon them commenced at once.

After a fight of three hours, during which Lieut. Davidson lost 22 men killed and 21 wounded, two-thirds of the command being killed and wounded, he was forced to retire fighting his way over two miles, and with the disadvantage of having the wounded to carry with him. Lieut. Davidson received an arrow wound, not very severe, in a hand to hand conflict. Surgeon Magruder was also wounded, slightly.

The victory was a dearly bought one to the Indians, as about fifty of them were killed, and nothing but their vast superiority in numbers gave them the triumph. Everything was safe at Cantonment Burgwin, there being fifty odd men there. It was expected that the whole of the General's disposable force would be sent out against the enemy.

Another letter, dated the 31st, says: "They commenced firing upon us, every shot taking effect either upon the horses or men. It was a sad sight to see so many men falling dead by my side. We were in so bad a place that the Indians had great advantage of us, and when we retired they were on all sides of us; had we stopped three minutes longer not a man would have been saved. The wounded are now in the hospital. A Mexican, whom I met in Taos to-day, told me that he was at the place of action yesterday afternoon, and counted sixty dead Indian bodies. Major Blake and Thompson, with a few troops and a number of Mexicans, started last night to bring in the dead bodies, and to attack the Indians if they could be found."

Among the volunteers in this desperate engagement, was Mr. Geo. K. McGunnagle, Jr., of this city, who was an active participant, and behaved with all the coolness of a veteran. He escaped unhurt.

The St. Louis Intelligencer contains the following account of the battle:

On the 29th ult., companies A and I and a squadron of company F, first dragoons, stationed about Taos, while on a scout, twelve miles from that place, came upon a large party of Apache and Utah Indians at the foot of a mountain of the same name as the town mentioned.

The main body of Indians lay concealed among the rocks, and a small party approached apparently to communicate with Lieut. D.'s command. The latter, so confident were they that the Indians designed no hostile demonstration, were all dismounted; and in this condition held a parley with the few that approached. Suddenly, by a preconcerted signal made by a chief, three hundred Indians poured in a volley of balls and arrows from their ambuscade upon the troops, doing frightfully fatal execution.

The dragoons, thus caught off their guard, mounted at the first moment, charged the savages, and drove them back. The force of dragons engaged numbered about seventy. In the action forty were killed and seventeen wounded. Most of those who were killed fell at the first fire of the Indians; the latter, from their place of concealment, taking aim at the soldiers.

On the 13th instant, a dead Cougar, or what is generally called Panther, was brought to Indianola, Texas, on a wagon, having been killed near Caylora. When killed it measured eight feet and four inches in length. It was slain with a shot gun, charged with bird shot, but it required five rounds to do the work. When wounded and partly blinded by the first fire, it made show of fight, and required some care to avoid it.

AN ATTEMPT TO SWINDLE BY TELEGRAPH.—A dispatch, purporting to consist of foreign news by the Arabia, appeared in the New York Express of Tuesday evening, stating that the Czar was dead—that there was a prospect of peace—that cotton and breadstuffs had advanced, &c. The same dispatch was sent to the Evening Post, but was not published. The Post says the dispatch created great excitement, and charges that it was a cheat of Mr. Craig, agent of the Associated Press. Mr. C. caught the Express, one of his own patrons, in the trap he had set for the outside papers. The Post says a similar trick was played two years ago, which nearly ruined merchants in Boston and New York.

In conversation with a manufacturer and a capitalist, yesterday, we learned a fact that will startle those who have the permanent welfare of Cincinnati at heart. Not less than thirty men doing an extensive business in this city, have seriously contemplated removal to Louisville, because of the legislative obstructions to the successful prosecution of business in this city. Unless a Merchants' Bank—located perhaps in Covington—is established here to afford such facilities as are enjoyed by the business men of cities in other States; it is thought Cincinnati will lose some of her largest manufacturers.—Cin.
